Project Title: American Tap Dance Foundation Website

I could see this being a multiple page site with navigation across the top, but I also think it could work well to have the ability to scroll continuously to arrive at each new page, seeing as the site would detail a very fluid history. I think photos (and perhaps videos) would add an important layer of information and context.

- Home Page – What ATDF is and what its goals are ("mission statement")

- History – Who its founders are, its origin as American Tap Dance Orchestra, and how it came to be what it is in present day.

- Activities
    - Primary Annual Events
        - Rhythm in Motion
        - Tap City

- Sources
